DESIGN PROFILE

I can remember elementary school glueing macaroni to colorful construction paper. Middle school brought rough, oblong, out-of-perspective superhero sketches. Highschool produced charcoal, brightly and oddly, but believable lit apples and bananas. College yielded long nights spent wrapping my head around a personal identity including business cards, printed and web design portfolio. My career so far has earned an incredibly tenacious and motivated graphic designer seeking an equally creative and inspired career atmosphere. There's no fighting who I am...a creative designer!
